

Behaviour Management Resource for Activity 4: Managing groups

Where computers need to be shared, or group activities are to take place, significant planning must be given as to how those groups or pairings should be made up. Should they be through friendship, ability or computer competence? Who manages the mouse? Who keeps the written record of findings?

Group Model 1

Friendship groups

Group Model 3

Students grouped according to computer competence – mixed computer ability in each group

Group Model 2

Students grouped according to computer competence – all similar ability together

Group Model 4

Students grouped according to academic ability – mixed computer ability in each group

Group Model 5

Students grouped according to academic ability – similar ability in each group